Profile

A curious and resourceful multi-disciplined leader & developer with a decade of experience creating things for and on the web. Currently managing a lean, high-performance, and multi-faceted marketing team. I do my best work in compact, tight-knit, and high-output teams that enable direct feedback with peers and leadership. I sit in the sometimes uncomfortable realm between product and engineering.

Currently based in Winkler, Canada (Central Time), open to remote opportunities as well as relocation.
